PORTFOLIO

1. Hideo Wakamatsu Luggage

Bringing a whole new dimension to travel luggage, the Hideo range amalgamates style and substance. This luxury luggage brand focuses on every thread, every grain of leather and every panel of high-tech textile, which is carefully chosen to create some of the most thoughtfully designed and crafted luggage in the world.

Featuring travel suitcases, backpacks, totes, handbags and briefcases complete with matching accessories, the elegant shapes exude quality and the state-of-the-art style. Creator Hideo Wakamatsu is the son of renowned Japanese luggage designers and a student of French art and literature. As a result of such pedigree, Hideo refuses to be influenced by market-driven trends, choosing rather to focus on quality, form and function.

2. Nicholas Jones

Nicholas Jones is a Melbourne-based sculptor who uses books and printed-paper to create works which question the manner in which books are "read." With the belief that books are "vessels designed to hold information, borne of investigation or of personal expression" Jones transforms them as a way to highlight the poetic nature of the book as form. His methodology includes folding, tearing and sewing book leaves, among others, and he argues that while books are sometimes revered for their content or historical importance, more often than not they are discarded as cultural debris. His installations help preserve the integrity of the printed form.

3. Apple & Bee Bags

A woman can never have too many bags; this we know. These are the perfect gift for mum this Mother's Day. If you missed the deadline for that day however, they are simply too gorgeous to pass up anyway. Made from the finest organic cotton, silk, hemp and bamboo the range includes a carry all bowling bag, Audrey Hepburn-style circle case (as pictured) and two cosmetic bags. You can choose between two beautiful designs; the apples or blossom trees, which offer practicality and style without harming Mother Earth.

4. ELANRA Air

We know all too well how air travel can take its toll on your body, which is why we welcome the arrival of the ELANRA Air. It literally gives you a breath of fresh air. Designed specifically for aircraft use, it decreases the risk of becoming sick from flying by increasing the presence of negative ions of oxygen. The therapeutic benefits of these tiny particles include boosting your immune system, protecting against air borne infections, and reducing jetlag. Conveniently compact, the ELANRA Air can be worn comfortably around the neck, providing you with unrestricted freedom. So when you next jet off to Paris, New York or London, arrive at your destination rejuvenated and stress free.
